CENTRAL HISTORICAL QUESTION(S)WHO ARE YOU?*WHAT ARE EFFECTIVE STRATEGIES FOR CREATING A CLASSROOM COMMUNITY?Source of Image below: <https://carleo.files.wordpress.com/2013/04/20130428-074842.jpg>LESSON OBJECTIVE(s)

- 1.) INTRODUCE yourself and a classmate
- 2.) DEFINE a classroom community

PART I: WARM UP

DIRECTIONS: Respond to the Warm Up question. Make note of any meaningful comments in the following mini-discussion.

PART II: WHO ARE YOU?

Part A DIRECTIONS: In the name of creating a classroom community, its important that we take the time to get to know each other by letting each member express themselves in the way they would like to be known.

Take the first five minutes to quickly write a few (3 - 5) things about yourself that you want this class to know about you. Additionally, think about how you would quickly explain your life story / personal explanation to a classmate (i.e. 2 minutes or less! Impossible, I know, but be prepared. You will be doing this in Part B of this exercise).

When you are done please put your pen down so I can know when to begin Part B of this exercise.

3 - 5 things I want the class to know about me:

Part B DIRECTIONS: In this next activity, you will have ten minutes (maybe 15mins!) to meet with five members of the class. Your job is to listen to their very brief life story / explanation of who they are. Write down their name, and as you listen, pick one thing from their narrative to quickly record in the space below. This can be anything in their narrative. Once you finish with one classmate, move on until you have met with five classmates.

You have 10 - 15 minutes to complete this exercise.
